Help Students Succeed

Dynamic features make it easy for instructors to provide interactive learning experiences, take attendance, and view actionable insights.

» Break up a lecture

Keep students' attention by presenting short chunks of content, followed by a poll.

» Take attendance

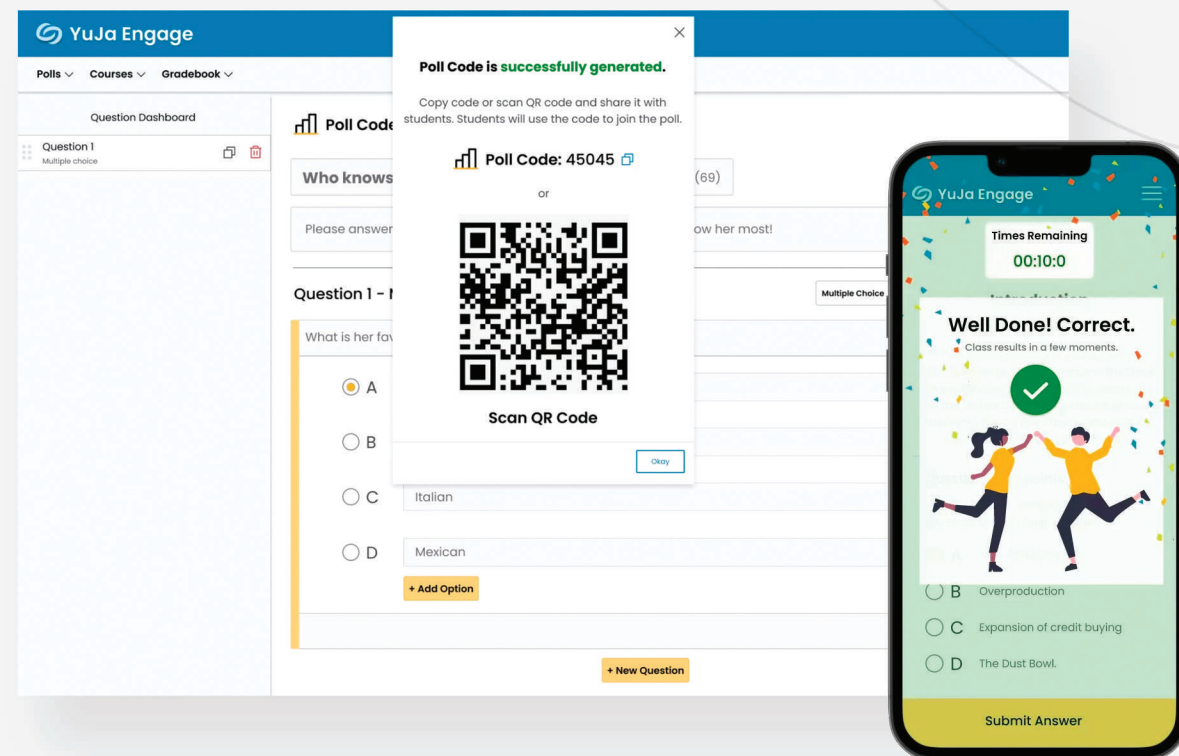

Quickly and easily record attendance in classrooms of all sizes.

» Spur discussion

Use polls to spark discussion among disparate individuals and groups. A variety of question formats helps enhance collaboration.

» Quickly reveal knowledge gaps

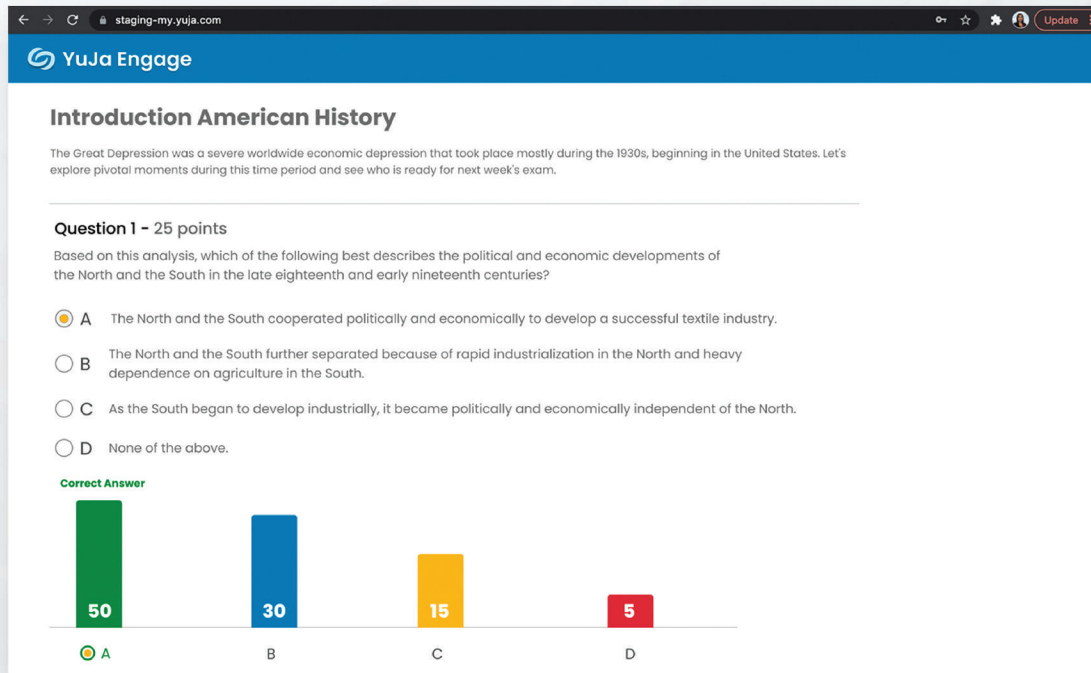

Poll results can show instructors where they need to spend more time or how to alter their lesson.

Use Real-Time Metrics to Adapt Teaching Methods

Instructors and students benefit from real-time feedback. Using poll results, instructors can quickly adapt their teaching methods without waiting for the unit test or homework to reveal areas of confusion and receive immediate insight into their knowledge of classroom concepts.

With a student response system, instructors can modify their courses on the go.
